

PRESS BRIEF

CENTRAL PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

Shri Prabhakar Singh, Director General, CPWD shall unveil the Lodhi Art District, India's first Public Art District, created with the support of St+art India Foundation during a function at Lodhi Colony, New Delhi on March 1, 2019 at 3.00 PM.

CPWD has initiated the endeavor of creating India's first Public Art District with St+art India Foundation in the year 2015, with just an idea and a mural or two which has grown to over 50 murals, created by acclaimed Indian and International contemporary artists, adorning the large canvas like walls and pedestrian friendly lanes of the centrally located Lodhi Colony.

Delhi with its rich heritage of monuments and sites of historical significance will now has a new cultural destination. This partnership with St+art India Foundation, will not only leave a legacy as a model project for other cities in India, but is also a new, innovative and natural fit under the Prime Minister's flagship – Swachha Bharat Mission.
